Fatal Accident in Scarcroft

Early on Mon 17 Oct, a collision involving 2 cars took place on the A58 that resulted in a man's death and 5 others taken to hospital. The fatality was a passenger man in his thirties from Leeds.

It happened in semi-darkness at 6.30am near the Inn pub at the junction with Syke Lane. The road was closed for 9 hours while the Police investigated.

Meeting Arranged to Discuss Bus Cuts

From Sunday 6 November, the Harrogate to Leeds buses via Wetherby & Boston Spa are to be cut to hourly from half-hourly during the day. It has always been hourly in the evenings and on Sundays.

The residents of Tockwith have never had an hourly, evening or Sunday bus service. Their only service of approx. every 2 hours is under threat - the 412 Wetherby to York. Its operator Connexions was on BBC Look North saying they cannot afford to run it without help from North Yorkshire County Council. Company boss Craig Temple implored us to 'use it or lose it'.

The 3 Wetherby Councillors on Leeds City Council have said they have arranged private meetings with Alex Hornby, CEO of Transdev and Metro/WYCA, the transport authority for West Yorkshire. They say they will "urge them to work proactively with us and our communities to deliver services that are fit for purpose for our area." They will take place before Fri 4 Nov.

Where is the £3Billion Boris Promised?

Let's hope Conservative Cllrs Richards, Lamb or Harrington can represent the feelings of passengers in the area. The image shows the community of Horsforth also having serious concerns about their bus service. Our Councillors should also ask the WYCA/Metro and their friend, MP Alec Shelbrooke, how the £3Billion promised for buses by this government has been spent in this area? If indeed this money materialised.

Work on Aldi Roundabout to 'definitely' start on Mon 24 Oct until Fri 11 Nov

Leeds City Council Ward Councillors have said on Facebook: "There have been ongoing discussions with LCC, the Town Council (minuted) and Ward Councillors in response to resident's concerns and complaints going back three years. The roundabout is to be moved more centrally with safe crossing islands put in place to increase pedestrian safety and slow traffic down. New signage will also be installed"

Leeds City Council Ward Councillors have said on Facebook: "There have

Complaints about Reliability for New Operator of X98/99

Transdev began operation of the X98/99 route to Leeds with impressive, luxurious buses on 2 October. There were no complaints about the buses themselves, just them turning up:

"I waited 1 hour 20 mins the other day for a bus, that's nearly 3 late, cancelled or gone"

"The X98 we used to catch from Deighton bar at 6.30pm is no longer!"

"The X98 from Deighton Bar is either late or doesn't turn up every day. My daughter goes to college in Leeds and is being penalised for this shoddy service. Nothing luxury about the X98!"

"Transdev have taken the 7:10am bus off since they took over the X98 run. Making me late for work and child late for breakfast club which I pay for to get to work on time. And then the bus I do get into Wetherby doesn't sync with the 7 bus from Wetherby to Leeds, so I'm super late. It's an absolute joke this."

"So getting to work late and home later not great, already missing my connecting bus regularly because the X98 is setting off late."

We asked Steve Ottley, General Manager at Transdev for comment but received no response.

Local Democracy Page - Our MP & Councillors

Alec Shelbrooke has been our Conservative MP for 12 years since May 2010. His basic salary is £84K (£2K rise in Apr '22). In the last election in 2019 he won 58% of our vote beating Labour by over 17,000 votes. He was a Remainer. From Dec '19 to May '22 he has voted 467 times out of 560 (83%) and has rebelled once against the party whip (Mar '22). He refused to inform his constituents whether or not he supported Boris Johnson in the No-Confidence Vote. He was a strong supporter of Liz Truss in the Leadership Battle. She promoted him to a Ministerial post in Sep '22. He has provided no information on social media about his new responsibilities and how it affects his work for constituents.

Alec has 17,000 followers on Twitter. In the past 10 days of Tory Turmoil (13 Oct to 23 Oct), during which the Chancellor was sacked and his choice of PM, Liz Truss, resigned, he has tweeted 3 times.

20 Oct - Two Retweets from the MoD about Ukraine and MoD staff accommodation.

Wetherby Town Council is made up of 15 Councillors. They were all elected as Conservatives, although Cllr Chapman claims that the Town Council is not a political council.

Leeds City Council is a Labour-run authority. Councillors are paid a basic allowance of £16,500. Many more £1000s can be claimed for being Chairs of meetings or a whip, called SRA. Plus they can claim expenses. In 21/22 Cllr Lamb claimed the basic allowance of £16,300 + £20,000 SRA, Cllr Harrington £16,300 + £10,000 SRA.

Councillors We asked the 16 Councillors and the Town Hall clerk for comment on the Issue 30's contents, particularly the bus service cuts, the image of the town, Wetherspools, HGV learner drivers and the riverside areas. No response yet.

From a Town Hall M'ment Cttee meeting in July: A "claim in relation to a fall on black ice outside the Town Hall last winter remains ongoing, with a reserve amount of £23,164 having been noted"

General Town Council meetings are monthly (2nd Tues) usually starting at 7pm at the Town Hall.

There was no meeting in September, apparently. There was an Extraordinary meeting on 4 Oct. No explanations provided. It lasted 22 minutes with only Staffing Cttee & Markets Cttee matters briefly dealt with.

The minutes of the 11 Oct meeting have yet to be published as at 23 Oct.

Nobody has monitored or reported on Town Hall meetings for many years. No wonder they are not used to their actions and inaction being questioned by us. Why doesn't the the 'professional' media, like the Harrogate (Wetherby) News attend or report on meetings?

An Insight into our 'Justice' System

Most of us assume our Justice System is based on common sense and fairness. Sadly, that is not always the case and any of us could get caught up in one. Add to the mix a biased investigating Police Officer with low professional standards and you could find yourself in a real life farce.

Act 1 - The Police Interview

Someone has accused you of a subjective crime, like harassment. The Police are obliged to investigate this, however weak the case seems. So they invite you for interview.

You know the accusation to be total nonsense and assume the Police will ask sensible questions, taking an unbiased and independent approach in assessing all the facts.

That is a Foolish Assumption! Despite their training Police Officers can be as gullible, naïve and inept as any member of the general population. They can believe every word the accusers have said and decided on your guilt before hearing your side of things.

Remember that their questions are based entirely on what the accusers have said. You will not see any of the accuser's statement before the interview so will not know what (lies) the Police have been told.

In cases like this, it may be sensible to write a full statement yourself instead of attending an interview. Reasons:

Interview in Channel 4s '24 Hours in Police Custody'

- 1 Important facts or incidents may not be raised in the interview.
- 2 Top of your head answers to irrational questions may be used against you later in a Police statement. You must be switched on when answering questions about morality and legality. And about freedom of speech, something you may never have considered before, because we are supposed to live in a free society.
- 3 Surprisingly, some Officers are not interested in specific details, they prefer generalities. They may try to catch you out by asking a general question with assumptions in it. Again, unless you are a quick thinker, you will not realise you should ask for an example or the detail that the question is based on. The Police may ignore your questions and not take part in any sort of normal conversation.

Your goodwill towards these public servants may soon evaporate, and you may regret attending the voluntary interview. You should consider saying 'no comment' to ridiculous or biased questions. You should always accept the offer of a duty solicitor to be present. And you should always take your own notes of all the questions. After two hours of questioning, it is normal for you to be frustrated and tired, and just wanting to leave as soon as possible. But you should take the opportunity to ask questions of the Police, even though you may think it pointless. But if you do, at least it is on record and so are their answers. Again, take notes of their answers but remember, you can request the recording later, if necessary. After the interview the Police may not respond adequately or professionally to your questions by email. Indeed, they may ignore them. Don't forget they may have spent a lot of time on the case and therefore want a result. They may not be helpful in any way.

Real Life Examples from Police Interviews in the Same Case.

- ◆ It was claimed by an Officer that the word 'discovered' has a sinister undertone. That is ludicrous.
- ◆ An accusation of malicious communication was introduced in a second interview. It was dropped despite 'no comment' to all questions about it. Why was it introduced in the interview when they gained no more information about it? It was designed to scare the accused.
- ◆ The Officer asked 'What's next?' 'What are you going to do next?', as if the accused was guilty and he thought the accused would commit another crime. What did he expect the accused to say? This is a stupid question designed purely to intimidate.
- ◆ The Officer and his colleague confirmed they thought the accused was guilty at the end of a 'no comment' interview. In the end, the accused was never put on trial because the prosecution offered no evidence. So both these Officers were proved wrong in the end, highlighting poor judgement. They wasted their time and the accused's time.

The accused wrote to senior management of West Yorkshire Police about the main Officer's behaviour. They refused to acknowledge it was unsatisfactory in any way. They expect the accused to make a full complaint, even though all the evidence is written down and clear to see. The accused had the sense not to spend his time fighting a defensive, unaccountable, powerful organisation, especially when the complaints are investigated by the same Police force.

Had the trial gone ahead, there was 60+ detailed questions the accused would have asked the Officer in court about his actions and statement. Officers with poor standards and judgement will be found out eventually but possibly not before they have caused great upset to many innocent people.

This article contains no professional legal advice. It is based on one member of the public's experience relating to a subjective crime, like harassment and so is not relevant for many straight-forward crimes like theft or criminal damage.

Go to a solicitor if you wish, but if you are a character of average intelligence and strength you should be able to defend yourself. The accusers have won already if you spend a single penny. Solicitors are businesses and there are good and bad solicitors, like in any profession. A warning though - simple information about the system is hard to find.

A Reader Writes:

I believe not the Sun, but the actual best-selling paper, the Mail, also produced an article on Wetherspoons recently. It was centred upon the distress caused by Wetherspoon closures, particularly the loss of the inexpensive coffee facility used by the elderly as an excuse as a place to sit and keep warm on cold winter days and evenings. (Go to Otley)

Wetherspoons also provide free cold water, even for passers-by (in Wetherby so does BetFred).

There is no tannoy music, people maintain good behaviour as a precaution against getting barred. Every pub is constructed individually and furnished with character. Historical information is displayed in frames on the walls.

(Go on a winter coach holiday and witness where the elderly head off to when dropped off in a strange town on an especially cold day)

Wetherspoons actually trains its bar staff and, I believe, supports those intending to make a career in the chain if they go to college. (Ambitious young people enjoy working there as the opportunity for promotion lies as a possibility in the future)

It produces a magazine that is a page turner.

The standards and the aura of probity due to the readiness of the CEO (Tim Martin) to respond to questions is reassuring.

Providing a reduced-cost evening is not only beneficial to the community, it is also environmentally sensitive as not much is thrown away but recycled.

I have no connection with the chain other than as a customer.

Wetherby on Telly from Front Page

Images of a deserted, rainy Shambles and Market Place were beamed into the country's living rooms. Danny interviewed Greengrocer Mike Johnson who said that the Tories stab everybody in the back and that there's no leadership. He praised Boris though admitted he's made mistakes. "We will be a great country if we could rally behind some decent leadership", Mike concluded.

The BBC Reporter for Northern England then visited Renton & Parr and asked MD Ken Bird what he would say to the government. "Sort yourselves out, for Goodness Sake" was his reply.

Danny described the town as conservative and found a lady in the Gourmet café who said that Boris "got some vision of things that could go right".

Nobody could disagree with the final comment from a Black Bull customer; that the country needs some stability.

Another Wetherby Bank to Close

NatWest Bank has sent letter to all customers, informing them that the Wetherby branch will close on Thurs 9 Feb next year.

There was no hint of an apology for the inconvenience it will cause for many. No hint of regret, no 'we are sorry' The Editor is one customer who thinks this is very poor customer service.

This closure comes after Barclays Bank closure almost exactly a year before this one (18 Feb 22). Santander has also deserted the town.

The Natwest letter tells us the nearest branch will be Harrogate.

Comments about the closure on social media included a suggestion that all banks get together, share one building and have one cashier each to deal with the public. Someone also said they would be in big trouble if the Post Office closed.

Meanwhile, work continues on the new Domino's Pizza shop next to Oxfam.

It is hoped to be open before Christmas.

Criticism of our Charity Article

Yorkshire Air Ambulance in Masons Field mid-October

A charity we both agree should be supported

After our article on charities in Issue 29, Steve Cooper of Bramham, described it on Nextdoor social media outlet as an ‘excoriating report on the charity sector’.

Excoriating means to criticise severely.

He said none of the charities we recommended were local. We suggested to him that Wetherby Foodbank was a local charity.

He listed a total of 22 charities he would recommend. About half of them were part of the Lions charity, only one of which is local (Wetherby). His list also included 5 hospices and 5 other charities.

Mr Cooper did not say whether any of these charities are open and accountable in the way the article suggests that they should be. He only said ‘they all have website or Facebook accounts, as well as Annual reports on the Charity Commission website.’ It is a legal obligation to have an Annual Report and having a website or Facebook account does not automatically mean they are open and accountable.

Mr Cooper then asks us publicly (as opposed to a direct message) if the Wetherby Free Press is a registered charity because we ask for donations. We responded saying that is an absurd expectation. He asked why it was an absurd expectation and someone else (unconnected to WFP) explained it was: “because you don’t need to be a charity to ask for, or receive, donations. Anyone is able to ask for donations and anyone is within their right to donate, whether it’s to charities or not”.

We asked him directly exactly what he disagreed with in the article or what, if anything, was incorrect. He gave no response.

We love people having opinions but if you can’t back them up with any reason or evidence, and have a sensible, amicable to-and-fro on social media, then perhaps you should keep them to yourself.

Mr Cooper has a right to reply, which we will print in full.

Green Party Leader Visits Boston Spa

Joint Leader Carla Denyer visited Boston Spa to discuss concerns over bus services with local campaigner Penny Stables.

They said the cuts announced on the 7 bus route to Leeds, Wetherby & Harrogate would result in problems getting to and from work (with knock-on effects on child care), and difficulties meeting health and other appointments for those with no affordable alternative.

Penny Stables claimed the ticket prices to Harrogate are excessive - a return ticket from Boston Spa to Harrogate costs £9. She said “While a temporary £2 cap on single bus fares is hugely welcome within West Yorkshire, fewer routes and less frequent services are making it harder for people to get around at a time when we need to make travel more environmentally friendly.

“We need a genuine bus revolution, with an expanded, high frequency and sustainable bus network. Those with cars should have an incentive to leave them at home; those without deserve improvements so that they can rely on buses for their essential needs for work, social and health”

Penny Stables put these issues to Alex Hornby, of Harrogate Bus Company, but was not pleased with the outcome. She says he turned down her idea for cheaper ticket bundles be offered to passengers from Boston Spa and local villages, something that applies to Harrogate and Wetherby bus users.

Carla Denyer added “Buses are vital to creating fairer, greener communities. We have to accept that not everyone drives. In places like Wetherby and Boston Spa, buses help tackle congestion and air pollution – and are especially important to the elderly, the young and the disabled.”

We asked Harrogate Bus Company to respond to the Green Party’s press release, summarised above, but received no reply before publication.

Leeds desperately needed a win at Elland Road on Sun 23 Oct. It looked good when Leeds went ahead but only for a few minutes when a poorly defended corner gave Fulham their first.
